

How it all started

Have you ever looked at the Andalusian culture and just stared from how beautiful everything looks.

Well, that is what happened to me and my friends. We were enchanted by Andalusian culture, so we delved deeper and saw how deeply their patterns shape it, and we fell in love with their colors and patterns immediately. We as a friend group had always had this dream of ours to make our own bag brand, and so all our inspirations came together like a puzzle.

We decided on making a bag brand that showcases the ancient and historical beauty of the Andalusian culture with their unique patterns and beautiful color palettes. And that is how ANDULESIA started, a brand that represents the Andalusian luxury with a modern soul.
